

THORIUM is the future of Prosperity, & Abundance

THANKFUL T.E.A. - Because of Our Supporters, Thorium travels from Texas to El Salvador

We are building a world for the Future

We have been on the move for the last month - We went to Texas for the first Texas Nuclear Alliance - It was very inspiring to see that they focused on end users and financiers - the real people who will get advanced reactors built (or even plain old nuclear) We need everyone onboard in order to get this done - especially customers & bankers.

Unfortunately, the meeting left me, a guy from Illinois, jealous. My Governor betrayed his own party and rejected all but small reactors as the approved size for Illinois - why is a state making arbitrary size distinctions!?!?!? WHY?

Texas will let their industry pick what they want and how big they want it. Illinois will go from the most nuclear state in the nation , to a middle of the road also ran with an ever shrinking fleet (I am bereft thinking of the loss of ZION in Illinois - a horribly mismanaged reactor that would be making 2,400 critical carbon free megawatts an hour today if we had any vision . . .)

Let's hope Texas leads the way and shames the rest of the country and the world by creating vast amounts of carbon free and abundant energy for its people and industries.

You can see the very short video about Texas Nuclear (and Illinois) here:

And Now!

We leave for El Salvador, where we once again are doing our small part to point this brave forward looking country to the future of energy abundance.

The work being done now, will give the people of El Salvador the prosperity and opportunities that only Thorium based Power and Critical materials can Provide.

Thorium's Potential: a Source of Fuel Critical Materials

John Kutsch, executive director of the Thorium Energy Alliance, believes fervently that “Thorium will power the world.” In addition to its potential use as a fuel, it can also be used in medicine, alloys, coatings, and superconducting materials. He speaks with Host Llewellyn King and Co-host Adam Clayton Powell III.

DO YOU HAVE A SUGGESTION FOR BOARD MEMBERS ?

We are looking at how we organize the Thorium Products Corporation and what the management can look like and especially - who would be most effective at helping us get this most important project and facility built and running ASAP.

If you know managers who worked in chemicals, built facilities, managed financing for large capital projects or understand working in regulated environments, Licensing - we want to know those people's names.

As our Thorium license comes closer, we must have the best, most professional team in place, in order to show that this will be a well-managed on-going concern for the benefit of the USA and Western world and we will do our work right.

Thorium Energy Alliance sends Responses to Questions to ARPAe!

T.E.A. Answers Questions Raised by Our Proposals to ARPAe

We got a round of questions back from the reviewers at ARPAe for our proposals to revive uses of Thorium as a critical material - We think it is funny that several of the responses are along the lines of - "Thorium can't do All of This !!!". (It sure can . . .)

We have answered all the questions and now we wait along with all of you to see if we can get some support from the DoE to revive and create new uses for this Material.

Note: As grateful as we would be, we wonder what the future holds with the new administration - we will speak about that, and at what point do we still work - or just continue to do all of this work on our own.

Wish us luck - we are doing everything we can to make you proud of our work

The fact that it was essentially against DoE policy to fund thorium projects a while ago and now we may be able to work together with the DoE to revive thorium . . . it is truly astounding progress.

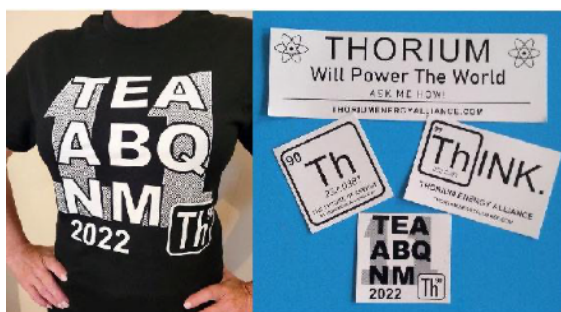

As we said in the last letter to you all - you will always be the first to know about our work , that has happened and can only be done with your support - THANK YOU ALL!!!
